Welcome 2017 Preps to our Under 8’s Day

From the Principal’s desk

Dear Parents/Caregivers

As winter draws near, this school term is really flying past with many events planned between now and the end of semester.

Lifelong Learning

At Birkdale South we promote and support a culture of lifelong learning. If you stop learning, the pack will fly straight by you! We can always get better at what we do. All staff are currently involved in working through Professional Learning Plans with administration to support them with their professional learning journey. From Prep, we instil within the child, a love of learning that will be sustained throughout life. When the 3 o’clock bell goes at our school, the doors don’t shut, but rather open to facilitate learning for all kinds of learners within our community. Our school is the centre for learning in our community and that is exactly what schools should be.

Assessment & Moderation

Teachers are currently busy assessing student learning and moderating work samples with other student’s work and against standards from the Australian Curriculum. Student reports will be emailed home towards the end of this semester and it is essential that the office has your current email address. Likewise, student attendance is extremely important at this time of the term to ensure teachers can assess and report student learning accurately.

Under 8s Day

Our Under 8s day was a huge success with our Deputy Principal, Mrs Green, coordinating yet another successful program. This day is the first part of our Pre Prep Program which will now move to scheduled mornings throughout the year where our 2017 Prep students will be involved in planned activities within the school. When next year is upon us, we have a smooth transition into school life and routine. The program also allows for early assessment of individual students so they can hit the 2017 school year with the support they need to effectively transition to school and learn.
Defibrillator Training

This year our school committed to purchasing a defibrillator at a cost of near $2500. Last week we all participated in training using the defibrillator and every year, all staff complete both first aid and CPR training. It is important to know as a school community member that we have one onsite stored in administration if ever needed. Statistics clearly show that CPR sadly isn’t enough to prevent fatalities in most cases and this is why we made the decision to purchase one for our school community.

Buzzing Classrooms

I have recently been visiting classrooms to observe teaching and learning and have been very impressed with the skills and commitment our teachers bring to the classroom every day. Students are engaged and teachers are varying their teaching strategies to cater for all learning styles of students. Through a culture of sharing, our teachers receive feedback through various ways around classroom observations or learning walks. I am privileged to be able to visit them as they weave their magic in front of the class every day.

Reconciliation Week

Today the senior students lead a parade acknowledging Reconciliation Week – Sorry Day through to Mabo Day. A student presented their persuasive essay, having been selected as the best by his/her peers. The Jarjum Dancers performed, it was great to see some of our Prep children becoming involved in dancing, thanks to Kim Paulson, Sarah Thompson and students for preparing this special occasion. This was the 25th anniversary of the Reconciliation Council forming. We have all been learning the “Marrin Gamu” song in Jandai language.

Under 8’s Day

Thanks to all of the teachers, parents, grandparents, uncles, aunties and friends who joined us for the 60th Year of Under 8’s Week in Queensland; “IMAGINING: MONSTERS & Me” We can’t have a successful day without you being with us, we always have such great fun on this special day. Many thanks for sending in boxes and egg cartons.

Vision (BYO ipad)

We have been co-constructing the vision for our intentions of learning moving into our next 4 year plan for Birkdale South and significantly our plans to step into the integration of the iPad as a learning tool. The vision will be presented to the P&C Association at the next meeting for consultation and feedback. Our parent information evening Tuesday 21 June, 6pm is essential for all those parents preparing to commit to purchasing an iPad to participate in the first group of iPad classrooms.

ICAS- International Competitions and Assessments for Schools

This week we will be holding the ICAS tests for Science on Monday. Students involved should have received a note to remind them about their participation last week. Student are required to bring a pencil and eraser to the Multipurpose room for their session.

Premier’s Reading Challenge

We have once again enrolled all students at Birkdale South State School into the Premiers Reading challenge. We are trying to encourage a love of reading in all our students. Reading record sheets have been provided for each student.

- Children in Prep to 2 are encouraged to engage with 20 books,
- Students in 3 and 4 are encouraged to read 20 books
- Students in 5 and 6 are encouraged to read 15 books
- Students have until August 26 to complete their reading challenge.

Last year we had a healthy competition running between 1C and Prep A to see which class could finish first with 100% completion, in the end it came down to 1 day separating the two classes. This year we are looking to hold a lower school P-4 and an upper school 5-6 competition.

Not sure what books your children should be reading – have a look at the following web address:

This has lists of appropriate texts for each age group.

Positive Behaviour for Learning

PBL Team

Last week’s expectation was “Be Responsible”. This involves students being a problem solver, returning equipment to the appropriate place at the bell and reporting to an adult for help in the playground. In the classroom, this entails being prepared, completing set tasks, keeping work spaces tidy and being honest. In the eating areas, students need to sit down whilst eating, come prepared and keep their area clean. All students have done a great job displaying these expectations last week with many beestings being handed out. Keep up the good work.

Be safe when crossing a road

Recently we have had community members contact the school to say that they have watched students run across roads without even looking or using the school crossing. Parents please remind students of the importance of taking care while crossing roads. We should all Stop, Look, Listen and Think before we cross a road.

Below are guidelines provided by Queensland Transport Department:

- STOP – find the right place to cross. Around the school students should be using our school crossings. STOP behind the line or a safe distance back from the kerb.
- LOOK – for any traffic coming. Look to the right, look to the left and look right again. If at a school crossing wait to be told it is safe to cross.
- LISTEN – can you hear any cars.
- THINK – is it safe to cross, take your time and do not run across the road.

An important reminder for our older students is to LOOK UP. At no time should they be on an electronic device while crossing a road or walking to school (driveways can be dangerous too).

Please see below student examples regarding Indigenous rights and the Stolen Generation.

Reconciliation Week

Today I am here to talk to you about the importance of holding annual Reconciliation Week. This week is about reconciliation, forgiveness and righting the wrongs. This week we recognise those who were mistreated and the mistakes of our ancestors. This week we make a difference. Between 1910 – 1970 over 100,000 children were forcibly removed during the horrendous time of The Stolen Generation. If an Indigenous person married a European and had a child, the child would be taken causing devastation and crushed hearts, due to the colour of their skin. The innocent child would be taken by the government, only if they had light-coloured skin, in the hope that Indigenous people would ‘die out’ through natural elimination or should be assimilated to the white community.

Innocent Indigenous children forcibly taken from their parents were taught to abandon their Indigenous culture and adopt the white one. When the children arrived at the missions, they had their names changed and were forbidden to talk their original languages. The innocent children were trained to be domestics and labourers, and at the age of 14 were sent to work as servants. The thoughtless and horrific acts of the government at that time were terrifying. How would you feel having your life turned upside down due to the heartbreaking loss of having your child taken away?

On the 27th of May 1967, the Australian Government held a referendum. This was a momentous turning point in Australian history. From 1902 to 1967 the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders people had almost no citizen rights, only in 1962 were they recognised as humans in the census, having the choice to enrol to vote. But during these times the Indigenous people were considered the flora and fauna and had no human rights at all. They couldn’t marry freely, guardianship of their children, vote in state elections, move to wherever they choose, receive the same amount of pay and own property. They had a boundary now commonly known as Boundary Rd where they weren’t allowed past and if caught crossing the boundary were severely punished.

The 1967 referendum altered the Australian Constitution. More than 90 per cent of Australian voters said ‘Yes’ to count Indigenous people in the population and give the Australian Government the power to make laws for the Indigenous. However, before that, many aspects of their lives were controlled by the state governments.

The referendum paved the way for several significant developments, however it did not completely end discrimination. For example the Indigenous people did not receive equal wages as the white community - this right was granted through a different process.

Reconciliation Week helps turn over a new leaf in Australian history and start new. Our ancestors would want us to right the wrongs and make our actions speak louder than words. As we all know, we cannot change history, nor can we ignore it, but by taking action and rebuilding the respectful relationships between the Indigenous and all Australians, we can help chart the path to a brighter future.

Written by Bailey M

‘I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and realise, all men and women should be created equal, so this injustice will never happen again and so history won’t repeat itself.'
Together we can make sure this doesn’t happen, because we cannot fix what happened or mend the broken and traumatised hearts who were the Stolen Generation.’

By Louis H

‘We will probably never forget the days when children were stolen from their families grasp and when the Aboriginals weren’t even counted as citizens but we can reflect on those years and educate those who don’t know and those of the future. We can and we will make a difference for those whose hearts and souls that our ancestors had crushed.’

  - Middle: Andy M, He-Rou K, Talia C

- Band and String Lessons and Rehearsals this week
  There will be no band or string lessons or rehearsals this week, Monday 30 May, Tuesday 31 May or Wednesday 1 June. Lessons and rehearsals will resume as normal next week.

- Beginner’s Music Week for band students
  Due to a mix up with the distribution of the information and permission letters for this event we have missed the deadline to enrol our band students. Unfortunately this means that our beginner band students will not be able to participate this year. We are looking at holding an alternative activity later in the year for these students.

Spotlight on Year 5 Learning

Year 5 students have been busy preparing and practising their oral presentations for assessment. They will be presented in class this week. Students have prepared a short self-introduction in Japanese. This is called a jikoshoukai.

Below is an example of what your children have been learning. The words are written in a script called roomaji. This script allows students to read and understand the sounds. Japanese is basically a phonetic language, unlike English which has so many variations to grammar rules and pronunciation!

Konnichiwa
Hajimemashite
Watashi no namae wa naomi desu.
Toshi wa jussai desu.
Tanjoubi wa go gatsu desu.
Go nen sei desu.
Chokoretto ga suki desu.
Futtobouru ga suki ja nai.

The underlined words are different for each student. Ask your children the meaning of these sentences. Hopefully they can tell you!

Support Team

SEP

Well, Hockey has started. This is the 4th year Birkdale South State School have been involved with ‘Lifestream Australia’. This is a state-wide organisation facilitating the inclusion in sport of people with a disability to develop skills, independence and friendships. Each year this organisation comes to our school and runs free sporting programs. This Semester we chose to do Hockey with Years 3 to 6. Hopefully towards the end of the year they will return again to provide sporting opportunities to the lower school also.

The children enjoyed their first lesson learning how to use a hockey stick for such skills as pushing, dragging, trapping and running with the ball. Unfortunately, the lady did not come for our second lesson due to illness, but the children had a wonderful time playing games with Mrs McIntyre. Lessons will continue each Friday until the last session on the 10th of June.
